

DR. NAVEENPAL BHATTI

Bio

Dr. Naveenpal Bhatti is a lifelong Fremont resident who has always cared out the health and wellbeing of the local community. After graduating Mission San Jose High School in 1991, he kept the people of Fremont in his heart as he left to do his undergraduate at University of California LA, his medical schooling at Ross University and then finally to Michigan to complete his Emergency Medicine training in 2003. Wound healing has always been a passion of his ever since he was first exposed to them in the Emergency Room as a resident at Detroit Receiving Hospital.

One advanced therapy utilized at our center to heal non-healing wounds is Hyperbaric Oxygen Therapy (HBO). HBO utilizes the principles of scuba diving in modern medicine to achieve wound healing by hyper oxygenating wounds and tissues that are compromised and promoting the body's natural healing properties. As a certified scuba diver with dives all over the world, Dr. Bhatti not only comprehends the complicated physics behind this therapy, but also is able to effectively apply them in advanced medicine.
